DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless – (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kummle (USPN 6,545,246).

Kummle discloses a profile arrangement with an attached welding device. Laser beam welding is the preferred embodiment. The welding heads can be arranged in directly opposing or spaced positions. Welding heads are moveable and adaptable to different workpiece cross-sections and/or different positions on the weld joint. Mirrors may also be used to split the laser welding beams. Welding may be interrupted as well as the feeding of the workpiece. Welding energy can be adapted to different workpiece feeding rates, that is, less energy during slow feeding and increased energy during accelerated feeding. Lower energy levels down to stoppage may be used as the feeding rate is reduced or stopped. In this way, continuous uninterrupted weldjoints can be produced with the profiling arrangement (1) when a corresponding continuous feeding and continuous production of the workpieces takes place. Additionally, welding heads can be moved in the feeding direction of the workpiece and can be moved back again after a predetermined or adjustable distance, the speed of movement of the welding heads in the feeding direction being less than the feeding speed of the workpiece.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's amendments and new drawings filed 7/21/05 are acknowledged. The examiner finds the drawings to be acceptable.

Applicant's arguments filed 7/21/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Kummle does not produce a continuous or near continuous welding seam. The examiner respectfully disagrees because continuous uninterrupted weldjoints can be produced with the profiling arrangement (col. 5, lines 20-30).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
